Day-by-Day Itinerary

Day

1

Arrival & Relaxation on Da Nang's Beaches

Arrive at Da Nang International Airport. Private transfer to your family-friendly beachfront hotel. Spend the afternoon settling in and enjoying My Khe Beach — perfect for sandcastle-building and gentle swimming. Evening at leisure with an optional stroll along the Han River to view the iconic Dragon Bridge.

Important: Airport pick-up time will be coordinated with your flight details. If you arrive late, we recommend a light dinner at the hotel.

Day

2

Da Nang Family-Friendly City Tour

Half-day guided tour covering the cultural highlights of Da Nang. Visit the Marble Mountains with easy paths and caves to explore, then the Cham Sculpture Museum to learn about the region's rich history. Afternoon free for beach time or hotel pool fun. Evening optional: local market visit for family-friendly street food.

Note: Marble Mountains involves some steps; strollers may not be suitable for all paths.

Day

3

Full Day at Sun World Ba Na Hills — Golden Bridge & French Village

A full-day adventure to Sun World Ba Na Hills. Ride one of the world's longest cable cars up the mountain and walk the spectacular Golden Bridge held by giant stone hands—an unforgettable photo moment. Explore the charming French Village, family rides, and Fantasy Park (indoor games and attractions ideal for children). Return to Da Nang in the evening.

Tip: Bring a light jacket—temperatures on the hill can be much cooler than the coast.

Day

4

Transfer to Hoi An & Evening in Ancient Town

Short scenic transfer to Hoi An (approx. 45–60 minutes). Check into your family-friendly hotel. Explore the lantern-lit lanes of Hoi An Ancient Town at dusk: visit the Japanese Covered Bridge, historic assembly halls, and riverside cafés. Kids can join a simple lantern-making session. Enjoy a family dinner at a child-friendly local restaurant.

Important: Hoi An's Old Town is pedestrian-only in the evening—comfortable shoes and water bottles recommended.

Day

5

Hoi An Countryside, Cooking Class & Beach Time

Morning visit to Tra Que Vegetable Village: a hands-on family activity where kids can learn about local farming and medicinal herbs. Follow with a family cooking class featuring simple Vietnamese dishes ideal for young palates. Afternoon free at An Bang Beach for swimming and relaxation. Evening at leisure in Hoi An.

Note: Cooking classes are tailored for families—please let us know ages of children when booking.

Day

6

Half-Day My Son Sanctuary & Return to Da Nang

Early transfer to the My Son Sanctuary — a UNESCO World Heritage site. Guided walk through the ancient Cham temple complex with storytelling suited for children. Return to Da Nang in the afternoon for relaxation. Evening free—consider a sunset beach walk or a gentle river cruise.

Tip: My Son can be hot and sunny—bring hats, sunscreen, and water for the family.

Day

7

Sun World Da Nang Wonders (Asia Park) & Leisure

Spend a thrilling day at Sun World Da Nang Wonders (Asia Park) — rides for all ages, a giant Ferris wheel with panoramic views (ideal at sunset), and family-friendly attractions. Afternoon for last-minute shopping or pool time. Farewell dinner with a view of the Han River.

Note: Ride height/age requirements vary—parents should accompany younger children.

Day

8

Departure from Da Nang

After breakfast, private transfer to Da Nang International Airport for your onward flight. Check-out included and luggage assistance at the hotel.

Important: Please confirm flight times with our team 48 hours before departure for the final transfer schedule.

🔗 Frequently Asked Questions

❓ What is the best time to visit Vietnam?

Vietnam's best time depends on your region preferences. November to April is generally ideal, offering cooler, drier weather. Northern Vietnam (Hanoi, Ha Long Bay) is pleasant from November to March but can be chilly in December-January. Central Vietnam (Hoi An, Da Nang) enjoys perfect beach weather from February to August, while September-November brings heavy rains and potential typhoons. Southern Vietnam (Ho Chi Minh City, Mekong Delta) is great November-April with sunny, dry conditions. Avoid September-October in Central Vietnam due to monsoons. For mountain areas like Sa Pa, October-November and March-April offer clear views and comfortable temperatures. Summer (May-August) is hot and humid nationwide but still manageable with proper preparation.

❓ How can I reach Vietnam from India?

Flying is the most convenient option with multiple daily flights from major Indian cities. Direct flights operate from Delhi, Mumbai, Kolkata, and Bengaluru to Hanoi (HAN), Ho Chi Minh City (SGN), and Da Nang (DAD). Flight time is typically 4.5-6 hours for direct routes. One-stop connections via Bangkok, Singapore, or Kuala Lumpur offer more scheduling flexibility. Major airlines include VietJet, Vietnam Airlines, IndiGo, and regional carriers. Book early for better fares, especially during peak season (November-February). Phu Quoc and Nha Trang airports serve beach destinations directly. Compare prices across different entry points as sometimes flying into Da Nang or Phu Quoc can be cheaper than Hanoi or Ho Chi Minh City.

❓ Do Indian citizens need a visa for Vietnam?

Yes, Indian citizens require a visa for Vietnam. The easiest option is applying for an e-visa online through the official government portal. E-visas are typically processed within 3-5 working days and allow single or multiple entries for up to 30 days. Ensure your passport has at least 6 months validity and blank pages. Print your e-visa approval letter and carry it during travel. Visa on arrival is available at major airports but requires pre-approval letters from travel agents. Tourist visas can be extended once inside Vietnam if needed. Always verify current visa requirements before travel as policies can change. Apply early to avoid last-minute complications, especially during peak travel seasons.

❓ What are the best local transportation options in Vietnam?

Vietnam offers diverse transportation options. For intercity travel, domestic flights connect major cities affordably and quickly. The scenic Reunification Railway runs along the coast from Hanoi to Ho Chi Minh City – book soft sleeper berths for overnight journeys. Luxury buses and minivans provide comfortable intercity connections. Within cities, use Grab (ride-hailing app) for reliable, app-based pricing. Traditional taxis are widely available but negotiate fares beforehand. Scooter rentals are popular but only for experienced riders – traffic can be chaotic. Cyclos (three-wheeled rickshaws) offer charming short rides in old quarters. For coastal areas and islands, boats and ferries are essential. Train journeys offer beautiful countryside views and are perfect for meeting locals.

❓ Where should I stay in Vietnam's major cities?

In Hanoi, stay in the Old Quarter for atmosphere and walkability to attractions, or the French Quarter for upscale hotels near Hoan Kiem Lake. Hoi An's Ancient Town offers charming boutique hotels within walking distance of lantern-lit streets, while An Bang Beach area provides resort-style accommodations. Da Nang's beachfront hotels along My Khe Beach offer ocean views and easy access to attractions. In Ho Chi Minh City, District 1 is ideal for first-time visitors with proximity to major sights and restaurants. For beaches, Phu Quoc's Long Beach has the best resort selection. Book accommodations well in advance during peak season (November–April). Consider homestays in rural areas like Mekong Delta or Sa Pa for authentic cultural experiences.

❓ What are the must-visit attractions in Vietnam?

Ha Long Bay is Vietnam's crown jewel – take an overnight cruise among limestone karsts with kayaking and cave visits. Hanoi's Old Quarter offers street food tours and water puppet shows. Hoi An Ancient Town enchants with lantern-lit streets, tailor shops, and nearby An Bang Beach. The Imperial City in Hue showcases royal Vietnamese history along the Perfume River. Ho Chi Minh City features the War Remnants Museum and Cu Chi Tunnels for historical insights. Ninh Binh, dubbed 'Ha Long Bay on land,' offers boat rides through karst landscapes. Phong Nha-Ke Bang National Park houses spectacular caves including Paradise Cave. Sa Pa provides mountain trekking among rice terraces and ethnic villages. The Mekong Delta offers floating markets and rural cycling experiences.

🔗 What Vietnamese dishes should I definitely try?

Pho (pronounced 'fuh') is Vietnam's signature noodle soup - try both Hanoi and Saigon styles. Bun cha, grilled pork with herbs and noodles, is a Hanoi specialty famously enjoyed by Obama. Banh mi, crusty baguettes with various fillings, make perfect quick meals with excellent vegetarian options. Fresh spring rolls (goi cuon) offer healthy, herb-packed bites with peanut dipping sauce. Bun bo Hue delivers spicy beef noodle soup from the former imperial capital. Hoi An's cao lau noodles are unique to that town. Don't miss banh xeo (crispy crepes) and com tam (broken rice dishes). For drinks, try egg coffee in Hanoi and coconut coffee in Saigon. Vietnamese coffee culture is exceptional - the slow-drip phin filter creates incredibly strong, flavorful coffee perfect with sweetened condensed milk.
